

THE PAR FORE TIMES

Volume 1, Number 2

Written by Michelle Kirkpatrick , Program Assistant

October 28, 2008

On September 25th, 2008 PAR FORE held its inaugural end of the year party which invited mentors, mentees and their parents to the Brentwood Country Club for a dinner celebration. Parents were introduced to the mentors and were able to learn more about the PAR FORE program. Councilman Steven Flotteron presented awards to the mentees for their participation and dedication to youth mentorship for the PAR FORE program. It was a very enjoyable evening and definitely a success!

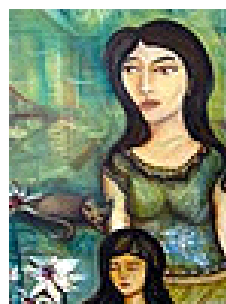

The USGA held its' annual holiday card contest which asked youth to use their imaginations and create a holiday card that incorporates a golf theme. Steven Williams, who is participating in the PAR FORE program recently won the contest. His artwork will be featured on the USGA's 2008 Holiday Card that will be sent to over 15,000 addresses. Steven will also receive tickets to the 2009 U.S. Open for himself and his family. PAR FORE will be presenting Steven with a new set of golf clubs for his great work. Congratulations Steven!

On October 19, 2008 Eleanor Clark presented a poem that she wrote at the Herstory Writers Workshop. The workshop was honoring Diane Cohen from the Long I Island Fund for Women and Girls and was held in the Charles B. Wang Center at Stony Brook University. The gala was a luncheon and reading and old and new writers presented their work. Eleanor also has a book in progress. Congratulations Eleanor!

Upcoming PAR FORE Events:

- October 29-
New mentor and mentee orientation and training session 4-7pm Stony Brook University Campus.
- October 30-
Mentor and mentee meet and greet 5-7pm Stony Brook University Campus
-

www.herstorywriters.org

PAR FORE: Using golf to make a difference!